Division of Overland Travelers.—A correspondent, who has traveled on the Pacific Railroad, writes that ladies should bring an entire change of linen in a hand valise, to be carried in the sleeping coach. Dresses should be of gray or brown worsted—never black. A flannel or calico dressing sack should be provided. A linen duster of ample size is essential; and by no means should a liberal supply of medicines be omitted. Brandy or port wine, and fluid extract of ginger for those who will not partake of spirits, should be brought along, as the water along the route is intolerably bad. At Omaha, those coming West should lay in provisions for the journey. The eating at stations is dear, and the journey being such a long one, uncertain. The ailments prevailing among overland railroad travelers are diarrhoea, chills, sick headaches, sore throat and influenza. There were slight cases of all among the party, and Dr. Brown suddenly found himself with a limited flying practice in Nevada.

Old Uncle Toby having seated himself in the shade of a fig tree in the yard to discuss the scraps of cold victuals which he had just begged from the "missus," discovered a large rat in the act of seizing a chicken bone. Aiming an ineffectual blow at the intruder, he exclaimed: "You devil equalaw! tiefy my meat! Wait till Chinaman come. He chaw you bones for he dinner, you bet."

Where is Barnum?—A gentleman of Rome, Ga., is about publishing a book on the subject: "The Government of the United States—What is it?" That's the most appropriate name we have yet seen for the aforesaid Government. Barnum ought to have it with the animal "What is it?" that he used to exhibit at his museum.

The Red Land (La.) Beacon says a meteor exploded near that place a few days ago. As it flew along it "produced a noise like cold water pouring into hot grease, and then burst with a loud report, like heavy artillery, followed by several smaller reports." A huge stone struck the earth fifty yards from a man.

Remarkable Escape from Prison.—Richard Roe, one of the Cadiz Bank robbers, escaped from the penitentiary at Columbus, Ohio, on Friday night. He was headed up in a barrel and rolled out by a son of the foreman of the workshop. Confederates met him with a team and he was driven away.

Strong Pepper has been commissioned as Postmaster of the village of Pepper, Nebraska. This reads like a joke, but it cannot be such, if "every joke has for its foundation an untruth," because it is a fact.

A remarkable pumpkin-vine is chronicled by the Wentzville (Mo.) News, of which the main stem is 300 yards long, and which has produced sixty pumpkins, seventeen of which measure from four to five feet in circumference.

Chicago is a place of novelties. A man was recently tried there for bigamy, and a clear case was proven against him, but he got out of the trouble by shooting one of his wives before conviction.

The startling intelligence comes that the small State of Delaware is growing smaller, from encroachments of the Delaware River.

A female clergyman, who married a couple in Iowa, kissed the bridegroom.

REYNOLDS' IMPROVED METHOD OF CONSTRUCTING Artificial Dentures.
Patented December, 1867.
AFTER an extensive use of this important improvement in practice for nearly two years, it is with full confidence urged upon the profession and the public, as fulfilling more thoroughly and satisfactorily than any other mode, every intention of Artificial Dentures. As in this method, rubber teeth are altogether discarded, it is desirable that it should fall especially into the hands of those familiar with gold plate work.
It may not be generally known that they who wear cases of artificial teeth, constructed according to this patent, by Dentists who are not licensees, render themselves liable to the penalty of infringement, as well as the operator.
Office rights will be disposed of and instruction given by letter, or at the operating rooms of Reynolds & Reynolds, where the manipulation may be daily witnessed, and where communications may be addressed.
